

Tegra Little Bio

“SERVING A CAUSE GREATER THAN MYSELF”

Born, raised and educated in Los Angeles (Sociology degree from USC), Tegra left a successful twelve year career as a respected music business executive to devote her energies to motherhood. Never in her wildest dreams did she imagine the journey to having children would be filled with ups and downs. After struggling with eight years of infertility — multiple miscarriages, fertility cancer, and gestational surrogacy, God has opened the heart of Tegra and her husband to adoption; they're looking forward to pouring their spiritual DNA into the lives of the children God has ordained for them. Her cancer challenge led her to an even higher calling. She formed her own company to promote the healing benefits of wholesome living foods that come straight from nature. She loves discipling women and founded No Longer Bound, an abortion recovery ministry for women who have been suffering in silence with the pain, guilt and shame of a past abortion(s). Her own personal story of abortion led her to be used as a vessel to heal broken women in this area. Tegra attends Faithful Central Bible Church in Inglewood, CA. She is married to Marc Little, an attorney.

So if the Son sets you free, you are truly free.
